*2 DR FREELANDER: To move—That this House:

- (1) acknowledges that the House of Representatives Standing Committee on Health, Aged Care and Sport held an extensive inquiry into the use and marketing of electronic cigarettes and personal vaporisers in Australia, throughout the 45th Parliament;
- (2) notes that the inquiry did not find, nor recommend, that e-cigarettes and personal vaporisers be considered to be 'health products', nor that they reduced harm to users;
- (3) further notes that e-cigarettes and personal vaporisers:
 - (a) are not universally considered to be an effective tool in helping smokers to quit smoking or reduce consumption of nicotine products;
 - (b) may be considered to be a 'gateway' into the consumption of nicotine, tobacco and nicotine products; and
 - (c) involve the use of flagrant advertising and enticing flavours, which allure consumers to consume their substance;
- (4) notes that the Senate is considering holding another superfluous inquiry into the use of such products, despite the House having held an extensive inquiry in the previous parliament;
- (5) condemns any attempt from vested interests to promote the use of e-cigarettes and personal vaporisers within this parliament; and

- (6) concurs with the House of Representatives Standing Committee on Health, Aged Care and Sport in its findings, namely that independent experts at the Department of Health, the National Health and Medical Research Council and the Therapeutic Goods Administration are well-placed to review the use and regulation of electronic cigarettes and personal vaporisers.

 - (a) Australians and regional communities are rightly sceptical about the Government's track record on water infrastructure and drought policy;

 - (d) more than two years after the announcement of the $2 billion National Water Infrastructure Facility, not a single dollar has been spent;
- (4) further notes that the Eurobodalla community has been waiting for a response from the Government since October 2019 in relation to their water storage proposal; and

11 MR CHRISTENSEN: To move—That this House:

- (1) notes:
 - (a) Mr Julian Assange is a citizen of Australia and not the United States of America or the United Kingdom;
 - (b) foreign courts should not be determining whether or not Australian citizens should be extradited to other countries;
 - (c) Mr Assange was not resident in the United States when he allegedly committed the crimes of which he has been accused;
 - (d) foreign nations should not be seeking to extradite an Australian citizen to face charges for alleged crimes when that Australian is not a citizen or a resident of that foreign nation, nor have they committed any alleged crimes while physically in that foreign nation and, more so, when the alleged crimes are intrinsically linked to journalistic endeavours;
 - (e) the conditions in which Mr Assange is currently being held are not appropriate for someone who has not been accused or convicted of a violent crime and are impeding his ability to adequately prepare his defence;
 - (f) Mr Assange should not be held in prison in the United Kingdom as he has served his time for a bail violation (based on allegations which have since been dropped) and, more so, he has not been charged with any current crime committed within the United Kingdom;
 - (g) according to both medical practitioners and the United Nations Special Rapporteur on Torture, Mr Assange has exhibited signs of being the victim of psychological torture as per the internationally-recognised Istanbul Protocol, and as such should not be held in conditions that exacerbate his impaired psychological state;
 - (h) Mr Assange has been subjected to protracted and perhaps illegal surveillance, including privileged communications with his lawyers, and as such, his due process rights have been violated; and

 - (b) the United Kingdom to terminate its extradition hearings against Mr Assange and release him from prison;

13 MR WILKIE: To move—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
 - (a) the trial and extradition of Mr Julian Assange are inconsistent with international law, and Australian legal standards, and contravene the individual rights and protections for which these laws and standards provide;
 - (b) the United Nations Special Rapporteur on Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment has found that Mr Assange ‘showed all symptoms typical for prolonged exposure to psychological torture, including extreme stress, chronic anxiety and intense psychological trauma’;
 - (c) several medical reports find that Mr Assange is in ill-health due to prolonged arbitrary confinement, and indeed the United Nations Working Group on Arbitrary Detention ruled that the 50-week sentence of Mr Assange for bail violation, which formally ended on 21 September 2019, was punitive and disproportionate given the nature of the offence and usual sentences;
 - (d) Mr Assange is facing extradition for an alleged political offence, which is expressly prohibited by Article 4(1) of the Anglo-US Extradition Treaty and an abuse of power; and
 - (e) Mr Assange is an Australian citizen and, if convicted in the US, faces 175 years in prison, which would be in effect a death sentence;

- (3) recognises that establishing a robust Federal Integrity Commission is essential to arresting the declining public trust in institutions and restoring Australians’ faith in the democratic system;

- (5) celebrates Australia's long history of democratic reform of which the 1853 Beechworth protest forms a part, and invokes this same tradition to call for a Federal Integrity Commission;
- (6) affirms that in order to fulfil its purpose, a Federal Integrity Commission must have:
 - (a) broad jurisdiction to ensure that everyone involved in Federal public service is subject to independent scrutiny and that federal public servants, politicians, their staff and any private entity carrying out public functions is obliged to report corruption and wrongdoing and be protected when they do;
 - (b) common rules to ensure that all persons are held to a single, high standard of behaviour and to ensure that the commission is able to investigate any behaviour, whether criminal or not, which does or could adversely affect public confidence in the honest, open and fair exercise of public power;
 - (c) appropriate powers for the commission to be able to properly do its job, including the ability to receive referrals from the public, government agencies and whistle-blowers, carry out corruption-prevention activity and coordinate with state and other bodies, protecting individuals from arbitrary use of coercive powers, initiate its own investigations, use search and surveillance powers, subpoena documents, compel witnesses, investigate past misconduct, make recommendations, and refer criminal conduct for prosecution;
 - (d) fair hearings such that investigations are conducted openly when in the public interest and subject to ensuring natural justice for those under investigation and due process of law, and ensuring that the commission can publicly report its findings of fact and recommendations when in the public interest; and
 - (e) accountability to the people so that the commission remains accountable to public, not political interests including by ensuring that the Commissioner be independent officer of the Parliament appointed only on recommendation of a cross-parliamentary standing committee of Members and Senators; and
- (7) calls on the Government to introduce a Federal Integrity Commission consistent with these Beechworth principles.

(Notice given 3 March 2020. Notice will be removed from the Notice Paper unless called on on any of the next 4 sitting Mondays including 19 October 2020.)

 - (a) the Prime Minister has done nothing, and now jobs are being lost; and
 - (b) it has been reported that hundreds of jobs will go at universities in Rockhampton, Geelong, and suburban Melbourne;

- (2) without serious Government help, universities have predicted 21,000 jobs will be lost in the next six months alone, meaning:
 - (a) tens of thousands of livelihoods could be destroyed, including those of academics, tutors, administrative staff, library staff, catering staff, grounds staff, cleaners, security and many others—all with families, trying to make ends meet; and
 - (b) the impact on regional communities will be devastating (universities support 14,000 jobs in country Australia);
- (3) to save university jobs, the Government must take serious action now, and that the Treasurer could have acted to solve this problem, but hasn't—instead, the Treasurer has been deliberately moving the goal posts to ensure universities are excluded from government support;
- (4) the Government cannot explain why a university student working a $100 shift per week receives the full $1500 JobKeeper wage subsidy, while their full-time university tutor, with three kids to support, is not eligible; and
- (5) Labor believes it is a big mistake for the Prime Minister to abandon university staff during the COVID-19 crisis.

 - (d) meeting the requirements of Australia's seven different fundraising regimes is causing needless productivity loss for thousands of Australian charities and not-for-profits;
 - (e) Australia's current frameworks for investigation and enforcement have failed to adapt to the contemporary fundraising environment;
 - (f) current fundraising laws do not meet the donor-focused expectations and requirements that should govern fundraising regulation in the 21st century; and

- (3) recognises that:
 - (a) for several years, the charity and not-for-profit sector has been calling for reform of Australia's fundraising laws;
 - (b) Treasury's five year review of the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission, delivered on 31 May 2018, identified fundraising law as the major reporting burden on charities and recommended that fundraising law be harmonised across the country;
 - (c) in February 2019, the Senate Select Committee into Charitable Fundraising in the 21st Century called on Parliament to harmonise fundraising law within two years;
 - (d) that inquiry, chaired by Labor Senator Catryna Bilyk, delivered a unanimous report, with its recommendations being supported by Greens Senator Rachel Siewert, Liberal Senators Eric Abetz and Amanda Stoker, former Labor Senator David Smith, and former United Australia Party Senator Brian Burston; and

 - (f) excluded aged care workers who will not receive the retention bonus include those delivering services under the Commonwealth Home Support Program as well as in-direct care workers in residential aged care facilities including lifestyle and leisure therapists, cleaners, hospitality workers and gardeners;
 - (g) the exclusion of any aged care worker from receiving the retention bonus is unwarranted and unfair;
 - (h) on 20 March 2020 the Minister for Aged Care and Senior Australians issued a media release that stated the retention bonus payment would be 'after tax'; and
 - (i) on 5 June 2020 the Department of Health's retention bonus guidelines stated the payment would be 'subject to income tax';
- (2) conveys its disappointment that the Government made:
- (a) a decision to exclude about 40 per cent of aged care workers from receiving the retention bonus; and
 - (b) a late decision to switch the retention bonus from being after tax to being before tax that will see aged care workers lose hundreds of dollars they were previously promised;
- (3) calls on the Government, as a matter of urgency, to reconsider its decision and pay the retention bonus to all aged care workers irrespective of their role or where they work and to explain why it changed the rules around the payment being after tax to the payment now being subject to income tax; and
- (4) acknowledges the work all aged care workers undertake each and every day and thanks them for their continued dedication to care and support older Australians in residential and home care.

 - (i) driving privatisation as it forces agencies to outsource their core functions;
 - (ii) causing a blowout in spending on contractors, consultants and labour hire; and
 - (iii) leading to a hollowing out of the public service; and
 - (c) evidence to the Australian Public Service (APS) Review indicates that contractors cost 40 per cent more than permanent APS employees;

- (2) notes that:
- (a) the Australian National Audit Office Information Report No. 19 of 2017-18, Australian Government Procurement Contract Reporting, indicates that in 2016-17:

- (3) welcomes the recent comments from the International Energy Agency that 'governments have the opportunity to accelerate renewables deployment by making investment in renewables a key part of stimulus packages designed to reinvigorate their economies. This offers the prospect of harnessing the structural benefits that increasingly affordable renewables can bring, including opportunities for creating jobs and economic development, while reducing emissions and fostering innovation';
- (4) notes analysis by the Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organisation that projects that up to $1,000 billion will be spent on Australia's electricity system until 2050 and that local communities should benefit from this investment boom;

 - (a) direct financial support for regional communities in the form of grants and concessional loans;

46 PARTNER AND SPOUSE VISA APPLICATIONS: Resumption of debate (from 31 August 2020) on the motion of Mr Hill—That this House:

- (1) reaffirms that:
 - (a) Australians love who they love, and the community must have confidence that the partner and spouse visa provisions in the Migration Act 1958 (the Act) are administered lawfully, fairly, impartially and with integrity;
 - (b) while the Minister generally has the power to limit the number of visas in particular classes and subclasses by using the program management provisions in s86 of the Act, s87, of the Act explicitly prevents the 'capping' of visas to people who apply for a visa on the grounds that they are the spouse or de facto partner of an Australian citizen or permanent resident;
 - (c) the Parliament has voted twice to reject legislative amendments to give the Minister a power to cap these visa classes, preferring the processing of spouse visa applications to occur on a demand-driven basis; and
 - (d) inexplicable and unconscionable delays by the Department of Home Affairs in processing thousands of partner visa applications continues to result in significant harm to, and consequences for, Australian citizens and permanent residents;
- (2) condemns the Government for:
 - (a) using the administrative tool of migration program planning levels to unlawfully override the legislated program management tools in s86 and s87 thus effectively 'capping' partner visas against the intent of s87 of the Act;
 - (b) refusing to release advice on the legality of their actions to restrict partner visa grants;
 - (c) presiding over an extraordinary blow out to 91,717 as at 31 March 2020 in the number of partner visa applications on hand, an increase of almost 30 per cent in under three years;
 - (d) unacceptably high and deteriorating processing times for partner visa applications, with the Department's website indicating that:
 - (i) subclass 300—75 per cent of applications are processed within 16 months and 90 per cent of applications are processed within 29 months;
 - (ii) subclass 309—75 per cent of applications are processed within 15 months and 90 per cent of applications are processed within 20 months;
 - (iii) subclass 100—75 per cent of applications are processed within 20 months and 90 per cent of applications are processed within 24 months;
 - (iv) subclass 820—75 per cent of applications are processed within 20 months and 90 per cent of applications are processed within 25 months; and
 - (v) subclass 801—75 per cent of applications are processed within 13 months and 90 per cent of applications are processed within 25 months;
 - (e) cutting the number of partner visas granted by 8,000 per annum which will mean the backlog and processing times continue to grow;
 - (f) allowing a blowout in the backlog of cases to 5,556 cases at the Administrative Appeals Tribunal (AAT) as at 31 July 2020 with:
 - (i) an average processing time for partner cases of 726 calendar days; and
 - (ii) a partner visa set aside rate at the AAT of around 60 per cent;

- (g) failing to address the perverse consequences of COVID-19 related border restrictions for partner visa applicants including:
 - (i) refusing to let numerous partner and prospective marriage visa holders enter Australia before their visas expire, or at least to extend their visa expiry date or refund their money; and
 - (ii) refusing to let people who are currently in Australia on a temporary visa and who are granted an offshore partner visa to activate that visa without having to fly overseas; and
- (h) attempting to silence Australians who speak up publicly about the delays in processing and growing problems in the partner visa program; and
- (3) calls on the Government to:
 - (a) acknowledge the devastating human impact of delays and uncertainty on affected couples whose lives are in limbo, whose mental health is suffering, and whose relationships are being destroyed through separation from their partner for many years;
 - (b) apologise for the unacceptable delays in processing partner visa applications and take immediate action to process the backlog noting the Government has collected massive levels of visa application revenue that should be used to process applications in a timely way;
 - (c) urgently address the perverse consequences of COVID-19 related border restrictions on partner visas; and
 - (d) publicly commit to affected people and the wider community that partner visa processing will in future be administered lawfully, fairly, impartially and expeditiously.
